GOVDELIVERY COMMUNICATIONS CLOUD SECURITY

OVERVIEW

---

Granicus provides digital outreach and engagement solutions for hundreds of government organisations. We understand the critical importance of the solutions we provide, and have built our systems to be scalable, secure, and highly available. That architecture utilises multiple data centers and extensive redundancy; we also use the best of breed technology from internationally recognised vendors. Security isn't just handled by a few security experts: Granicus has embedded security best practices across our organisation, including our software development processes, to ensure that security and reliability are an integral part of development and quality assurance.

The infrastructure utilises a virtual server architecture that decouples the hardware and software layers, protected by redundant firewalls, log correlation, and intrusion detection tools. To ensure our systems remain secure, we regularly run both internal and external security scans, and we contract security specialists to run penetration tests in support of our commitment to continuous improvement. Granicus has also been awarded multiple high-level federal and international security certifications such as the United Kingdom's G-Cloud IL2 accreditation, US FedRAMP, and ISO 27001.

FEDRAMP

The Federal Risk and Authorisation Management Program, or FedRAMP, is a government-wide program that provides a standardised approach to security assessment, authorisation, and continuous monitoring for cloud products and services. This approach uses a "do once, use many times" framework that saves an estimated 30-40 percent of government costs, as well as both time and staff required to conduct redundant agency security assessments. FedRAMP is the result of close collaboration with cybersecurity and cloud experts from the General Services Administration (GSA), National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST), Department of Homeland Security (DHS), Department of Defense (DOD), National Security Agency (NSA), Office of Management and Budget (OMB), the Federal Chief Information Officer (CIO) Council and its working groups, as well as private industry. The framework for FedRAMP is the 800-53 security controls as published by NIST. These security controls holistically cover all major concerns for security risks for information systems. The FedRAMP control baseline that we use contains added controls optimised for cloud service providers plus added controls to cover additional customer requirements.

SECURITY CREDENTIALS

Granicus' commitment to security is demonstrated through our FedRAMP authorisation, obtained at a Moderate impact level and approved by the Joint Authorisation Board (JAB)[1]. The JAB consists of the CIO level of the Department of Defense (DoD), General Services Administration (GSA), and Department of Homeland Security (DHS). These agencies reviewed our security posture and have given us their stamp of approval. In addition, we run a fully compliant continuous monitoring program that includes monthly scanning and annual audit/penetration testing, the results of which are sent directly to FedRAMP so that they can confirm we're still doing the right thing.

Another way to get a true appreciation of our high security standards is by inspecting our security credentialing from world renowned security organisations. We are one of a handful of organisations that are ISO 27001:2013 certified[2], and have been awarded the United Kingdom's G-Cloud IL2 accreditation. Granicus has also successfully completed Certification and Accreditation reviews by the leading Federal government organisations responsible for information standards and compliance, including the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST), Departments of Homeland Security (DHS), Department of Defense (DoD), U.S. Census Bureau, Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS), among others.

MULTIFACTOR AUTHENTICATION SUPPORT

As part of our continuous commitment to security, Granicus customers have the ability to activate multifactor authentication for their agency by means of either SMS message, voice call, or via PIV card tied to OMB MAX.

Granicus is an OMB sponsored max.gov integrator, enabling organisations to utilise multifactor authentication to ensure appropriate levels of security for administrators. Using SMS, PIV or common access cards, Federal Granicus administrators are able to further secure access to the GovDelivery Communications Cloud using multiple authentication points.

PHYSICAL AND ENVIRONMENT SECURITY

We maintain two datacenters that are over 1,000 miles apart in order to maintain availability in cases of geographic disruption.

Each state-of-the-art Tier III designed datacenter provides a highly secure, highly reliable, physical environment with no single points of failure on any main service category. The facilities are protected with advanced surveillance and trained security guards in attendance around the clock, 365 days a year. Authorised Granicus personnel must pass through three levels of identity confirmation, including biometric, RFID, and PIN credentials, before they are allowed access to the equipment.

YOUR SHARED RESPONSIBILITY

Our security architecture ensures that each account is maintained in its own secure private area, but each customer has a responsibility to ensure that its own organisation follows our recommended best practices.

It is important that every customer understands the critical part they play in ensuring their Granicus account is safe and secure. Granicus shares customer-required security responsibilities through a detailed list of security control implementation statements to make it easy for your organisation to ensure FedRAMP compliance. During initial implementation and training, your team is advised of the security options they have, and the best practices to support the integrity of your implementation. For example, every individual administrator on the system is provided with personal credentials as shared accounts are strongly discouraged. You also have access to administrator activity reports, and is educated on how to disable access to specific users.
